

WHILE STRIFE-TORN EGYPT seethed uneasily, this British tank stood by in Ismailia waiting to go into action. Two British soldiers (foreground) take cover behind a parapet. A late report from the area said that British troops, guns and armored vehicles were being concentrated in Canal Zone trouble spots in anticipation of further outbreaks.

Britain Holds Out Hope For Egyptian Settlement

London (AP) — Britain appealed to Egypt's new government yesterday to put out the fires of hatred and held out the hope of a peaceful settlement of the bloody Suez canal dispute.

Reds Reject Exchange Plan

Munsan, Korea, Wednesday (AP) —The Chinese Communists hinted yesterday they would leave direct responsibility for civil administration of a demilitarized zone in North Korean hands during an armistice.

The gesture sounded generous but actually applied only to a 1-1/4 mile wide strip north of the proposed cease-fire line which follows the 155-mile battle front across Korea. The Allies would administer a like strip south of the line.

While staff officers made a little progress during the day toward settling terms for supervising a truce, a subcommittee of the main armistice delegation remained deadlocked on the issue of exchanging prisoners.

The Reds rejected a 14-point prisoner exchange plan submitted by the Allies. Rear Adm. R. E. Libby, U. N. delegate, promptly called on the Communists to present some concrete ideas for breaking the stalemate.

Anne Morgan, Heiress, Dies

Mount Kisco, N. Y. (AP) — Anne Morgan, 78, one of the richest women in the United States, died at her estate yesterday. She was a daughter of J. P. Morgan, the late multimillionaire banker.

Miss Morgan devoted most of her life to charity and philanthropy, going into a factory on one occasion to see at first hand the conditions under which women employees worked.

One of the world's most eligible women, she never married. Society meant little to her, although she was born into its highest strata.

Miss Morgan had been in failing health for some time. She suffered a stroke in 1947.

Born in New York, she was educated in private schools befitting a child of great wealth. When her father died in 1913, he left a fortune estimated at $100,000,000. She was one of his four children.

She said she lived on a $3,000,000 trust fund.

Churchill, Eden Traveled Free

London (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill disclosed yesterday that he got a free ride to the United States and back aboard the British liner Queen Mary.

A Laborite member of the House of Commons demanded to know how much the prime minister's trip to Washington and Canada cost. Churchill replied that both he and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden traveled as guests of the Cunard company.

A government spokesman added that overall expenses for the party of 35 who accompanied Churchill and Eden were expected to total about $41,000.

House Committee To Probe Attorney General McGrath

U. N. Approves Chiang Charge Against Russia

Paris (AP) — The United Nations Political committee yesterday approved Nationalist China's charge that Soviet Russia has failed to honor her 1945 friendship pact with Chiang Kai-Shek's government.

The resolution—a watered-down version of the original presented by Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang with United States support—was approved 24-9, with 25 abstentions, after a stormy debate on southeast Asian affairs.

U. S. Delegate John Sherman Cooper and delegates from Britain, France, the Philippines, New Zealand and Australia served firm notice in the debate that any Red aggression in southeast Asia would be the signal for urgent U. N. consideration of steps to meet it.

Cooper's statement came after Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik had begged the old Red declaration that the United States was getting ready for aggression in southeast Asia. Malik said the United States had sent two generals, seven colonels and other American officers to train Chinese Nationalist forces in the wilds of Burma.

Cooper said flatly there was no truth in the declaration. The United States has repeatedly denied such charges, which have been broadcast by the Chinese Communist radio at Peiping and other Red mouthpieces.

Cooper said the Soviet allegations indicated the Russians themselves might be planning some new Communist aggression in southeast Asia.

Burma's delegate told the committee there was no evidence of any American connection with the Chinese remnants in his land and appealed to Tsiang to get the Kuomintang forces out of Burma.

The vote on the Chinese-Russian pact is expected to be the same in the final consideration in the General Assembly. If so, it would give Tsiang the required two-thirds margin for passage. He first brought his charges in 1949. The friendship treaty was one of the outgrowths of the Yalta agreement, under which Russia entered the war against Japan in 1945.

Woman, 104, Looks Ahead To Plowing

Whitesburg, Ky. (AP) — A Kentucky hill country woman soon will be 104 years old but she's looking beyond that — to spring plowing.

"Aunt" Jane Lucas Adams doesn't regard this as remarkable.

"All my life I've plowed, and I still will plow right on," she told an interviewer.

"I can follow the old plow and the family mule around the hill-sides just like I used to do in the long ago."

"I plowed last year and I am going to plow this year when Spring rolls 'round."

Mrs. Adams will be 104 on Feb. 10. Her brother, "Uncle" Eli Lucas recently became the father of his 15th child at the age of 86.

His third wife is 22 and mother of four of his children.

Uncle Eli, who lives at Dry Fork just west of here, is looking forward, too, says he'd like to have 20 children.

Aaron Lucas, father of Mrs. Adams and Eli, died at the age of 103. Their grandfather was 105 when he died.

Dog, Recovered From Polio, Gives To Dimes Drive

Pittsburgh (AP) — A limping dog with a little iron lung contribution box around his neck made a donation to the March of Dimes campaign yesterday.

The dog, a beautiful, blue ribbon winning Siberian husky, probably is the only dog to receive human treatment for infantile paralysis.

The dog, Ivan Alyssa Kolymski C. D., contracted polio at the age of 14 months. He was treated as a stricken child would have been. Now six-years-old, he is walking again.

The dog's owners, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Hayes of Pittsburgh took Ivan on a television program to bring hope and happiness to human victims of polio.

River Crests Eight Feet Above Flood Level As It Moves Toward Mississippi

Marietta, O., (AP) — The swollen Ohio river crested last night at near-by Parkersburg, W. Va., and rolled on to the little towns of Pomeroy and Middleport, O., leaving 8,000 to 10,000 flood refugees and at least 10 dead or missing.

High winds, coupled with snow, lowered projected crests at some points as much as three feet but brought telling blows to homes already hit and turned roads into a nightmare of ice.

Refugees returning to homes for clean-up work faced monumental tasks after the freezing temperatures left frozen ice in pipes, walls and basements.

The river crested at 43.9 feet at Parkersburg, about eight feet over flood stage.

Next stops for the crest of the three-day, three-state flood of the Ohio and tributary streams are the neighboring villages of Pomeroy and Middleport, some 35 miles downstream from Parkersburg.

At least three feet of water stood in the business district of Pomeroy as the village awaited an expected 51.7 feet crest at midnight.

Behind the crest—up river at East Liverpool, Empire, Stratton, Brilliant, Steubenville and Marietta, O., and Wheeling, New Cumberland, Westburg, W. Va., clean up work started.

Downstream, where the brunt of the flood crest still is to be felt—at Gallipolis, Ironton, Portsmouth, O., Maysville, Ky., Cincinnati and on west—the picture is reversed.

Below Pomeroy and Middleport, the next danger point is at Portsmouth, where an uncompleted flood wall fails to protect some lowlands. At New Boston, O., about 200 families face evacuation.

Some families began returning to their homes with a river family's customary optimism when the water started to recede.

The crest of 43.7 feet inundated about one-third of the Marietta business district and scattered small portions of the residential area. Flood stage is 35 feet.

East In Grip Of Cold Wave

A blast of Canadian cold spread over much of the eastern half of the nation yesterday. The freeze reduced the threat of new damage in the flood-plagued Ohio river valley but added to the hardship of 8,000 to 10,000 refugees.

Freezing weather extended as far south as northern Alabama and Florida. Sub-zero cold stung an area from the eastern Dakotas into central Illinois and northern Missouri.

Iowa had its lowest reading of the winter, with Sibley in the northwest corner of the state reporting -29 degrees.

Beidji, Minn., had -34; Fargo, N. D., -32; Park Falls, Wis., -24; Gladwin, Mich., -10; Rockford, Ill., -7 and Chicago, -3. Owl's Head, N. Y., in the Adirondacks, had an unofficial -14, and Burlington, Vt., -2.

Except for some rain along the northern California border, fair weather prevailed in the Far West.

Fire At Mt. Carmel

Mt. Carmel (AP) — A fire raged out of control in this small eastern Pennsylvania community last night. The blaze started in Miller's Shoe store and spread to Grossman's Department store and the Little Bear Food market. All three stores were gutted.

Lewis Appeals For Safety Law

Washington (AP) — John L. Lewis called on Congress yesterday, in the name of 114,025 men killed digging coal, to tighten mine safety laws.

The United Mine Workers chief told a Senate labor subcommittee, in his most vehement speaking style, that the 114,025 figure represents the total killed in soft and hard coal mining since records first were kept.

He said 73,906 have died in bituminous diggings alone in the 51 years of the 20th century and the carnage is still going on at an average of five men a day dead and 50,000 a year disabled. He gave a total of 1,304,575 for the injuries since 1930.

On January 2 she received a letter from Dixon saying he was a prisoner of war. A War department analysis of the handwriting, she said, definitely confirmed that it matched other samples of Dixon's writing.

Pfc. Sasser, who earlier had said he would step aside if Dixon was found to be alive, was not in court. He is stationed at nearby Fort McPherson, where Mrs. Dixon has been employed as a civilian clerk.

Mrs. Dixon returned from the home of her father, J. L. Laseter, of Cullman, Ala., for the court proceedings.

Sasser and Mrs. Dixon spent Christmas holidays at the home of Sasser's parents in Lagrange, N. C. Since returning to Atlanta they have refused to discuss their plight.

At the hearing she produced a War department telegram which said Dixon's status had been changed from "killed in action" to "prisoner of war."

Another earlier telegram submitted was one sent to Dixon's sister, Mrs. Lorean G. Storey of Sikeston, Mo., notifying her Dixon had been killed May 18, 1951.

Mrs. Dixon had received $10,000 insurance on the life of her first husband.

Steele Clark Candidate For U. S. Senate

Indiana, Pa. (AP) — A former Indiana county commissioner circulated nominating petitions yesterday in a bid for a U. S. Senate seat.

He is Steele Clark, of nearby Cherry Tree, who wants the Republican nomination in the April 22 primary. He will be opposed by at least one other Republican candidate, U. S. Sen. Edward Martin of Washington, who wants to be re-nominated.

Clark served 12 years as a county commissioner and headed the Pennsylvania County Commissioners association in 1946. He was a delegate to the national GOP convention in 1948.

Bank Teller Takes Stroll — Also $38,224

New York (AP) — A Brooklyn bank teller strolled out for lunch yesterday, police said, and kept right on going—with $38,224 of the bank's cash.

He was identified by police as Martin G. Olsen, 36, a slender, quiet man.

Olsen had worked for about a year for the Chemical Bank & Trust Co.'s downtown Brooklyn branch. For eight years previously he had been a teller in other New York City banks.

The FBI was notified of the theft because of Federal insurance on the bank's deposits. Bank officials said Olsen was bonded and the money insured.

Det. Lt. Edward Loures said Olsen walked out shortly before noon, telling other employees he was going to meet his wife for lunch.

When he wasn't back in about 90 minutes, his teller's cage was checked and the loss discovered.

The bank's assistant comptroller, William E. Swinyard, said Olsen left $23,798 in cash behind in the cage.

Police said Olsen was estranged from his wife, Ruth. He lived with his parents.

Further Austerity

London (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill's government announced a program yesterday to cut down on Britons' food, tobacco, socialized medicine and many other things in a dramatic bid to stave off national bankruptcy.

War Prisoner's Wife Granted Annulment Of Second Marriage

Atlanta, (AP) — A pretty 22-year-old blonde was granted an annulment of a second marriage yesterday after producing evidence indicating her first husband, reported killed in Korea, is a prisoner of the Communists.

Judge E. E. Andrews granted an annulment to Mrs. Agnes Dixon Sasser, whose first husband, Pvt. Walter E. Dixon, was reported killed in action in May, 1951. Mrs. Dixon married Pfc. William S. Sasser last September.

Mrs. Dixon saw her husband's name on a Korean prisoner of war list published before Christmas.

On January 2 she received a letter from Dixon saying he was a prisoner of war. A War department analysis of the handwriting, she said, definitely confirmed that it matched other samples of Dixon's writing.

Pfc. Sasser, who earlier had said he would step aside if Dixon was found to be alive, was not in court. He is stationed at nearby Fort McPherson, where Mrs. Dixon has been employed as a civilian clerk.

Mystery Man Grunewald To Face Action

Washington (AP) — The House Judiciary committee voted yesterday to investigate Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, President Truman's designated leader in the drive against corruption in government.

The new probe, it was learned, will range over the whole administration of the Justice department. Committee sources said the resolution for the inquiry was carried with "no audible dissent."

They also disclosed that the committee refused to hear McGrath before ordering the investigation. The Cabinet officer traveled to Capitol Hill and waited in vain outside the committee room for a chance to make a statement in the closed-door session.

Chairman Celler (D-NY) asked for the privilege of allowing the attorney general to speak. It was reported, but on motion of Rep. Forrester (D-Ga) the request was voted down almost unanimously.

McGrath announced a short time later that he will "gladly cooperate" in the inquiry.

In the wake of tax scandals unearthed in a separate House investigation, there were these other developments yesterday:

One—House tax investigators started contempt of Congress proceedings against "mystery man" Henry W. Grunewald and his attorney, William Power Maloney. Maloney was escorted from the hearing room by Capitol police after shouting repeated objections to efforts to persuade Grunewald to talk. Grunewald refused to testify after his attorney had gone.

Two—McGrath announced that an income tax indictment had been obtained against Samuel R. Beard of Washington, described by Federal officials as one of the largest gambling operators on the Atlantic seaboard. The indictment was returned in Baltimore, McGrath said, and charged Beard with a tax deficiency of more than $1,600,000.

Three—The Senate Rules committee voted unanimously for a four-months extension of the District of Columbia crime investigation, granting $61,200 to carry on the probe into the Washington police department and its enforcement of the gambling laws.

At its private meeting the Judiciary committee decided to have Chairman Celler appoint four Democrats and three Republicans to make a "non-political" study of McGrath's office and the administration of the Justice department generally.

The committee has the authority—and the funds—to proceed at once.

Soon afterwards McGrath issued a statement saying "the action of the House Judiciary committee in voting to investigate specific allegations and complaints concerning the Department of Justice that are based upon 'credible' evidence and not mere suspicion and rumor is a proper function of the committee."

He then added his pledge of cooperation.

Tax Form 1040-A Easiest If You Can Use It But It May Cost More Than Longer Forms

By Alexander R. George

Washington (AP) — Most wage earners with incomes under $5,000 make their tax returns on form 1040-A. It's the simplest way.

However, some kinds of taxpayers are not allowed to use form 1040-A. You may use 1040-A only if you can answer "no" to all of these three questions:

One—Did your income in 1951 amount to $5,000 or more?

Two—Did you get more than $100 from dividends, interest and wages not subject to withholding?

Three—Besides wages, dividends and interest did you have any other income?

If you can't answer "no" to all three questions, then you must use Form 1040, the white sheet. Even if you are permitted to use the easy 1040-A, you still may want to use either the short return or the long return on Form 1040.

Here are two reasons why you may prefer to use Short Form 1040 instead of 1040-A:

One—You had out-of-town travel expenses or "reimbursed expenses" in connection with your work and want to deduct those expenses in order to reduce your taxable income.

(You may deduct "reimbursed expenses" when they are reported by your employer as part of your income. You will want to deduct them because you don't want to pay tax on expense money.)

Two—You may want to know the amount of your tax at once instead of waiting for the collector's notice on it.

On Short Form 1040 you find your tax in the table on page four of the form. When you use 1040-A the collector figures your tax and sends you a bill or a refund.

Some wage earners will benefit by using Long Form 1040 instead of 1040-A or Short Form 1040. They are persons whose allowable non-business deductions total more than 10 per cent of their income. It will pay them to itemize these deductions instead of taking the standard 10 per cent deduction allowance.

Are you buying a home and paying substantial interest on the home mortgage? Among allowable non-business deductions are expenses and contributions to church, educational and charitable organizations.

If you itemize such deductions you must file Long Form 1040. There is no place for them on Form 1040-A or Short Form 1040, which automatically provide the 10 per cent of income allowance for deductions.

Most married couples save tax money by making a joint return. So if you are married and use 1040-A, write the names of both husband and wife at top of the return and be sure that both sign it at the bottom.

When you make a joint return on 1040-A, the collector figures your tax by both the joint and separate methods and charges you the smaller tax. You can make a joint return for 1951 even if you were not married until Dec. 31, 1951.

You can make a joint return for 1951 even if your wife died on Jan. 2, 1951. But if you were divorced on Dec. 30 you cannot make a joint return because the tax law then regards you as single for the entire year.

Remember to take all of your exemptions. Each exemption cuts down the amount of taxable income by $600. The taxpayer gets a $600 exemption for himself, for his wife and for each of his dependents.

A dependent is a close relative for whom you contribute more than half support. If two brothers and a sister contribute equal amounts to the support of a dependent father or mother, none of them can claim the parent as a dependent. That's because no single one of the children contributed "more than half the support" of the dependent.

If two children are supporting their parents it would pay them to each support one parent in full rather than divide the support of both parents.

If the claimed dependent received $600 or more in taxable income during 1951, you cannot claim an exemption for him as a dependent. Social security benefits and some other types of income are not taxable.

A taxpayer who is 65 or over by the end of the taxable year gets an extra $600 exemption. If the taxpayer's wife is 65 there is an extra exemption for her.

There is an additional $600 exemption for a blind taxpayer or the blind wife of a taxpayer.

(Tomorrow: Two ways to take deductions.)

To Confer On Goal

Give it Air and Watch it GO!

TAKE ONE GALLON of good gasoline — 8,350 gallons of ordinary air—mix well and feed in small doses to a Fireball Engine—and what do you get?

Well, mister, the closest we can come to describing the result is to tell you—it's something like the mighty thrust of an airliner—swooshing down the runway for a take-off.

All of which is another way of saying that this newest and finest of Buicks can rev up to 170 horsepower, the highest in its distinguished history.

Now, you seldom need all this horsepower. But it's nice to know you can boss it around—even if you use no more than an eighth of it at 40 miles an hour.

BUT BUICK ENGINEERS never do things by halves.

In the process of getting this whopping new charge of power, Buick engineers also came up with more miles per gallon from gasoline.

And they did it with one of the neatest bits of ingenuity we've seen in years.

Instead of building a whole new engine—they focused on ways to feed a better mixture to the great Fireball Engine they already had. A mixture of fuel, which costs money, and air, which is free.

The result was the Airpower Carburetor—a four-barrel automatic—which works on a booster principle.

Two barrels are sized and designed to supply the just-right thrifty mixture of fuel and air for anything from smooth-running idle up to some 40 or 50 miles an hour.

Then—when you call for more power—for a quick spurt out of a tight spot—for an unbroken gait up a steep hill—or for full-throttle operation—the reserves go into action.

You have two more barrels—to feed the just-right thrifty mixture for extra power—something like "second wind."

LIFE'S GREAT behind this great-powered eight, but that's only part of the story.

The rest is about interior styling stepped up to a new plateau of excellence and taste—of silencing to a point where a whisper sounds almost loud inside this car in motion—of bigger brakes and a smoother ride—and of Power Steering* as you have always hoped it might be perfected.

How about coming in and getting that story soon?

Couple Buys 400 Acres Of Timber

Six deeds had been recorded yesterday at the office of Floyd Butz, county recorder.

Three tracts lying partly in Barrett and Coolbaugh townships, Monroe county, and Green township, Pike county, were sold by the Laanna Woods Corp. to Mr. and Mrs. James K. Stone, Laanna.

The tracts are located in part on the Laanna-Mountainhome road, in Laanna itself, and mostly in "Laanna Woods". The property adjoins land of the Buck Hill Falls Co., Pocono Plateau Inc., and Skytop.

The total acreage is about 400, mostly timber, and with one house.

Other deeds recorded:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haney, to William Lesh, all of Hamilton township, a lot in that township on the Easton-Belmont turnpike near Bull Run schoolhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Larn, Stroud township, to Edgar C. Searfoss and Thelma Shaw, Phillips St., Stroudsburg, a Middle Smithfield tract of 3.3 acres on the Middle Smithfield-Coolbaugh township road.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Supplee, Gilbert, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Aiken, East Stroudsburg, et al, 19 acres on Church Rd. and Pohopoko creek in Chestnuthill township.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Koppenhaver, to Kream-Ee Ice Cream Co., all of East Stroudsburg, that of about a half acre in that borough on Grand St.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Hummel, Eldred township, to Burton S. Stehly, Hellertown, a 3.75 acre tract in Eldred township, adjoining land of Daniel Heller.

Wife Divorces Cugat, Charges Mental Cruelty

Santa Monica, Calif. (AP)—Xavier Cugat "kept me in a state of virtual slavery," Lorraine Cugat testified yesterday in obtaining a divorce from the bandleader on grounds of mental cruelty.

"He flew into insane rages for no reason at all," said Mrs. Cugat, 33, herself a rumba band leader.

She added that when they were dancing together he would smile and at the same time pinch her or dig his nails into her hands and call her sweet names.

Under a recently-approved property settlement, Cugat is to retain their $85,000 Brentwood home and she is to receive $152,000 in alimony over a 10-year period.

As part of this settlement, Mrs. Cugat withdrew the name of singer Abbe Lane as co-respondent, contained in a previous complaint. Miss Lane in turn agreed to drop a $500,000 invasion of privacy suit against Mrs. Cugat.

The Cugats were married in Philadelphia October 15, 1947 and separated two years later.

Santa Set Back

We imagine that the members of the Legislature must feel somewhat as Santa Claus would if he were robbed of his bag of toys and Christmas goodies.

The lawmakers probably are having such hot flashes because Gov. John S. Fine has vetoed a bill that the legislators passed raising their own pay from $3,000 to $5,000 a session.

We referred to them as Santa in this case because they bestowed many gifts on others in the recent session, but now they find their own stockings empty.

They raised the salaries of teachers, of Monroe county officials, of most judges and also upped the pensions of retired public workers.

The Governor objected not so much to the salary raise as to an accompanying section of the bill allowing certain expense accounts.

This would have jumped the pay from $3,000 to $8,600 and made Pennsylvania legislators the richest lawmakers in the nation—so far as salary and expenses are concerned.

The Governor's veto will do nothing to improve relations between him and the legislators and those relations got pretty wispish at times last year.

Had the legislators been more moderate in their salary-and-expense demands, they might have obtained Governor Fines' approval. For, certainly, it seems like poor economy to underpay legislators whose duties include the taxing and spending of some $1,330,000,000 every two years.

Next time, gentlemen, make the bill a little more reasonable. You may do better.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Student editors and reporters of the University of California newspaper, the Daily Californian, aren't bright enough to be in college.

Almost everyone by now, it seems to me, is aware that we have a war on our hand and that the enemy is Communist, fighting on orders from the Soviet Union. One of the effective weapons being used against us is propaganda, which is just as deadly as a Communist bullet. So it comes as something of a surprise to find it being peddled by the campus newspaper of one of our great universities.

University officials and the board of regents, led by one of the nation's great patriots, John Francis Nevin, are trying to find out why it is being done and in so doing they deserve whatever help any of us can give them.

In a recent article one of the Daily Californian's reporters wrote a story of a campus meeting at which a collection of juvenile minds expressed their opposition to the California committee on un-American activities. No one got alarmed over this. That is, until the story appeared in the college paper.

The meeting was sponsored by the Labor Youth League, which the reporter described as an "off-campus political group." It is that in fact and something more, too, which the college newspaper overlooked out of ignorance or design. It is important to determine which.

The Labor Youth League is a Communist controlled organization that publishes a mimeographed handout devoted to a type of propaganda that sent me back to the dictionary for another look at the definition of the word treason.

The league distributes its propaganda on the university campus. In a recent handout it had this to say:

"The U. S. press had led many Americans to regard the war in Korea as a war to preserve democracy. Carefully concealed is the deliberate U. S. policy to methodically exterminate the Korean people."

American troops fighting in Korea are accused of destroying food, committing atrocities and of using such weapons as poison gas. In fact, the LYL says that in Korea "old people as well as children were tortured, burned and buried alive by U. S. troops on orders from U. S. officers."

That's quite a mouthful from an "off-campus political organization," isn't it? Maybe the staff of the Daily Californian ought to take a course or two in political history. I've never encountered a political organization quite like this one, outside of the Communist party itself.

The LYL aims its propaganda directly at the university students. In a recent handout it said:

"Every day that we students, supposedly the best informed, the leader material of our country, remain silent in not voicing our desire for a return to peace and decency, we continue to share the collective guilt of our nation."

I think there is something else LYL members ought to share, too. It's a foxhole in Korea, since some of the kids over there need help. They can use it, even if it is from the so-called "leader material," or anyone on the Daily Californian staff who can't spot a Communist cell from an "off-campus political organization."

A mountaineer, nicknamed "Creep Along" Kramer by his associates, has come to the attention of the all-seeing editors of the Christian Science Monitor. It seems that "Creep Along" is entrusted with only one chore a day. His is the task of walking down to the river, a quarter of a mile distant, and totting two buckets of water back to the ancestral cabin he shares with his wife.

One afternoon, when he finally completed this monstrous chore, his wife peered angrily into the half-empty pails and rasped, "Paw, you're either goin' to have to step a mite faster comin' up from the river—or figger out a way to over come evaporation."

armed forces, and others, the House of Representatives didn't do fighting men any favor.

It was called a cost-of-living increase. But it is no such thing. Most of those in the armed services get their maintenance. They don't pay it out of their pockets.

For those who do provide their own living costs, Congress properly could have raised allowances.

The $7.50 a month additional pay which will go to privates, if the Senate and President Truman approve this House bill, will mean little or nothing. They will pay it back, with interest, when they get back into civilian life.

It is another case of election-minded politicians merrily spending $800 million which they haven't the courage to raise by taxation. It is delusion money.

Could be, but the threat developed into a reality yesterday!

The gals of the Womens National Republican Club are in a swivel and a light over an issue of political protocol. Did they "endorse" Bob Taft for president? He was their luncheon speaker at a recent turnout in the Waldorf last Saturday. Our Gov. Dewey is an Eisenhower power and tower. The Taft date was set last September, but in the interim he had chucked in his homburg. . . . Mrs. Robert Low Bacon, first veep of the club, listed as a sponsor, did not attend. In Washington she stated "no avowed candidate for the Presidency is endorsed by the club prior to the Republican National Convention." So there!

My Federal Building tippers-off slip me a tale with a twist. At an outlying sub-station some irregularities showed up, of a nature making them the business of both the feds and the city cops. A police detective was assigned. He turned up nothing after two weeks. But the postal inspectors did—they nailed the cop's own brother. An officer of the precinct got so mad, he gave the dick a beating. "In this department," he screamed, "you have no brother." The cop picked himself up off the floor in a daze and asked, "What's my brother got to do with it?" As it turned out, he was not protecting his brother—he just hadn't been able to dig any information.

When the President had made up his mind to fire Attorney General McGrath, he offered the appointment to Sam Rosenman, who declined, then to ex-Judge (U. S. Appeals Court, D. C.) Justin Miller, former Special Assistant Atty. Gen., criminologist and law professor. Miller accepted, tendered his resignation as president of the National Association of Broadcasters, a life job. Then Truman had to renege. . . . The pressure to save McGrath was too potent. . . . Among other factors which may have changed Harry's mind is said to have been a threat by a caller, Sen. Theodore Green of McGrath's Rhode Island, in effect like this: "If Howard is dismissed he will call a press conference and say that he asked you a year ago to discharge Lamar Caudle."

Bronx Boss Ed Flynn has been ordered by his medics to retire from politics pronto. He hasn't yet. But he has been on the West Coast for three weeks, in seclusion. He has found a new interest—horse-breeding—and invested $850,000 for a start. . . . Foreign money is said to be buying up RKO stock, seeking to take over Howard Hughes' control. . . . "Stuttering Sam" Dowell, famed local showgirl who wed a Texas millionaire, is now an executive with the Marx toy emporium. . . . Gertrude Gretsch (Mrs. Jack) Astor is scrutinizing time-tables of Virgin Island flights. . . . Valentina Cortese, Italian starlet, due this morning at Idlewild from Rome. . . . George Ross Jr., who was Arline Judge's sixth, will become Gerry Higgins' fifth. . . . Faye Emerson's next "Wonderful Town" will probably be Reno.

For the first time ever, New York City is tabulating and honestly reporting its crime statistics. The FBI has always eliminated the metropol from its figures because they were unreliable. Police Commissioner Monaghan ordered that the full truth go on the record. The first week's count was 3,000. The estimate is that, with trivial chaff eliminated, the Big Bur will register about 100,000 known crimes a year.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

It Looks Like A Real Fight There are those who deplore the divisions that arise from politics. They bespeak unity, yet, it is characteristic of our society that every child ought to aspire to the Presidency and some men do. The keener the public interest, the more violent and sincere the campaign, the more numerous the aspirants, the better it is for the country. Let excitement reign and the truth come out!

Now there are ample Republican and Democratic aspirants to have some real hot excitement over personalities and issues during the process of elimination prior to the final ballot at the convention. Even among the Democrats, there are several hopeful ones, and should President Truman, on April 29, announce his departure from glory, which I cannot believe will happen, there will be many more. It would really do this nation good to have a dozen candidates in each party, all of them telling what they think and know about each other.

The emergence of Senator Estes Kefauver, as a candidate, is difficult to understand. Except for his abortive investigation of gambling, so competently dramatized and televised, he has hardly any record of outstanding achievement in the Senate. Nevertheless, he has made himself a popular figure via television, and his languid manner somehow does give the appearance of substance. He looks like a paragon of virtue, more the New England reformer than the Tennessee politician—that is, on television.

Whether his candidacy is realistic depends entirely upon the purposes of President Truman, who, if on April 29, he decides to continue, the convention of his party will have no way of stopping him. Kefauver then might be a vice president candidate, if Truman will have him. In the South, there is a firm desire to live without Truman as president. Yet, Southerners who are more Republican in their outlook than some Republican Senators, nevertheless could not join in such a coalition as Senator Karl Mundt proposed, nor will they actually vote against the Democratic party when the time comes for a showdown in the voting booth. Habit with them is more potent than self-interest, which is not an unusual human trait, as anyone who studies the peregrinations of the human soul knows.

It has been suggested in the South, and I understand that such a plan has actually been proposed by Governor Allan Shivers of Texas, that a Democrat run for the presidency whose object would be to defeat Truman and yet not be elected himself. In a word, such a candidate would be a totem pole, to draw off the curse from voting Republican. Thus, Truman would lose the Southern states, which would mean his defeat; yet the

In a word, such a candidate would be a totem pole, to draw off the curse from voting Republican. Thus, Truman would lose the Southern states, which would mean his defeat; yet the Southerners would not cast their ballots for the party of Lincoln. Such a plan might make the election a stalemate, throw it into Congress in accordance with the Constitution and delay decision for months. But it would defeat Truman.

The South always presents this psychological problem. In the 1940, 1944 and 1948 campaigns, hopes were elevated among Republicans that sooner or later a way would be found to form a Republican-Southern Democratic coalition but nothing serious ever came of it. A group that called themselves Jeffersonian Democrats came into existence for this purpose, but they achieved nothing. The Dixiecrats of 1948 did not aid in the election of a Republican, although no Democrat was ever more offensive to Southerners than Harry Truman.

To those who are not Southerners, the continuance of post-Civil War psychology is difficult to understand in view of the changing economic conditions in the South. Yet, it is a continuing fact that states in the South and Southwest are increasing in population, and therefore in representation in Congress and in the political conventions.

The current popularity of General Eisenhower in the South may arise from the assumption that it would be possible to vote Republican for other reasons than that he has declared himself to be a Republican. To Southerners, therefore, he is a way out of their dilemma, which is how to vote against Truman without voicing for a Republican. But that argument does not do much good in other parts of the country.

The realistic fact is that names do count for more than principles and symbols affect men's minds potentially. And yet the names, Democratic and Republican, per se, have no such meaning as they had during the presidency of Andrew Johnson.

Hollywood—Corinne Calvet has a problem, folks. It comes from the fact that she has brushed her hair 100 strokes every morning and night since she was five years old.

Results? Well, the exercise has built up her chest muscles so that they swell clear up to her shoulders. This starts movie censors' eyebrows jumping like cat-pillars on a hot griddle. They yell "Too much bosom!" when all they really see is muscle.

"I have a big fight with them all the time," the peppery mademoiselle disclosed. "The censors want to cover me up till I look strangled. Or like I have no neck. Very ugly."

But Corinne has 'em outwitted. On her right side in front, and I took her word for this, is a natural beauty mark. "Mole?" I inquired discreetly. "Oh, no," she cried, shocked; "nothing warty. Just a little brown mark, perfectly flat."

Using this as her guidepost, she plants an artificial beauty mark with a pencil on the opposite side. A little higher. As long as her necklines sink no lower than a half inch under the pencil dot, she's censor-safe. If the natural beauty mark appears, it's her danger signal.

The matter came up in connection with her off-the-shoulder peasant costumes in the current remake of "What Price Glory?" Some assistant muttered that maybe the censor would frown. So Corinne dug out still photos showing her just-as-low neckline, censor-approved, with pencil dot showing, in "On the Riviera."

High chest muscles are peculiar to most French women, this one opined. Hair-brushing is as much a routine with them as teeth-brushing. Same thing with leg muscles. Their legs bulge—from bike-riding.

Estes In The Big Gamble—Estes Kefauver, top prober of gambling, is taking one of the biggest gambles in his policy. The Senate is taking a chance on the White House. With all the odds against him, he has grabbed a ticket on the political jackpot. A battler against slot machines, he has clutched the "iron arm" and yanked it in an ardent hope that the three plums, not the three lemons, will come down.

Senator Kefauver has made it tough for horse-race bettors but he is an added starter in one of the most exciting races in the world and has announced himself as "fit and ready," "trained for a sprint or a distance" and "a good thing at the weights," so to speak. We would put him down on our sheet now as follows:

Kefauver Boy—Prepped for the classic in the Video Derby, the Channel Handicap, the National Quiz Stakes, the Interrogation Futurity and the Twenty Questions Steeplechase, this one has been pointed for the big event.

There is no telling how good he is. Late trials are reported sparkling. He is the rangy type, not showy or gifted with much early flight, but is a terrific finisher. Excellent past manners and very smooth and fast when his stride. Recent reports that he had pulled up lame after a fast Washington workout are without foundation. May be overhyped in the November Grab-All over the Chicago route but is a distinct threat and will bear watching. Worth special attention at a price.

There is no point during a Kefauver Information Please quiz when you don't feel that if a lady entered the courtroom he would rise, bow and offer to protect her from the hard facts of life. He leans so far backward to be courteous that he at times seems to be floating horizontally in space. But the velvet glove leaves a witness groaning when he says good-bye. The Kefauver campaign will be fun, anyhow. There is no telling how far television can get you. Look at Godfrey, noodle soup and those teabags!

By quitting OPS to enter a political contest Mike Disalle would seem to be dismissing the most situation as a whole and concentrating on the balcony situation. . . . In the last four races at Hialeah the other day Famere won at $55, Crafty Admiral at $23, Prince of Roristan at $59 and Toy Fox at $35. . . . "I play the first five races on that card by going for the longshots," weeps Shudda Haddim. "After the fifth heat I listens to a guy who tells me a smart player sticks to the form horses! There's no justice!" . . . Pathos and irony in those recent pictures of the Elizabeth plane horror: The shot of a child's wagon on with the name "Middle Flyer" on it crushed under the plane wreckage. . . . The Kefauver candidacy may be a blow at the mink industry. . . . What's more screwball than the government salary ceiling in baseball players?

Estes not only has his hat in the ring but there is a "ring" in his hat. . . . the ring of sincerity. Should he make it, he will be the first "From Video To White House" candidate. Win, lose or draw his performance will be interesting as testing how much a Most successful investigators are not particularly heart-warming. They too often shape up as line-smashing, hard-hitting and tough-talking with a large percentage of ham in them. But Estes is a new type. He is a Lord Chesterfield with a big stick in his hand, a mild-mannered man with the kick of a mule, a griller with the tough questions held behind a Book of Etiquette.

There is little ham in him. When he puts the finger on the baddies it is to the lilting music of Tennessee folk songs, not the brass disturbances of the football battle. You see ermine instead of shoulder-harness and nose-guards. . . . there is the perfume of magnolia above the smell of rubbing liniment.

There is no point during a Kefauver Information Please quiz when you don't feel that if a lady entered the courtroom he would rise, bow and offer to protect her from the hard facts of life. He leans so far backward to be courteous that he at times seems to be floating horizontally in space. But the velvet glove leaves a witness groaning when he says good-bye. The Kefauver campaign will be fun, anyhow. There is no telling how far television can get you. Look at Godfrey, noodle soup and those teabags!

By quitting OPS to enter a political contest Mike Disalle would seem to be dismissing the most situation as a whole and concentrating on the balcony situation. . . . There's no justice!" . . . Pathos and irony in those recent pictures of the Elizabeth plane horror: The shot of a child's wagon on with the name "Middle Flyer" on it crushed under the plane wreckage. . . . The Kefauver candidacy may be a blow at the mink industry. . . . What's more screwball than the government salary ceiling in baseball players?

Swiftwater Church Scene Of Trenholm-Smith Wedding

Swiftwater—Miss Jean Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Smith, of Swiftwater, became the bride of Alvin W. Trenholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin G. Trenholm, of New York, Saturday at 5 p. m., at a candlelight ceremony at the Swiftwater Methodist church, with Rev. Charles Whitaker performing the rites.

Wedding music was played by Miss Jeanne Gugal, of Tannersville, at the piano. The wedding march was played on the organ, and two solos were sung by Miss Vivian Amhurst, of Stroudsburg, "Through the Years" and "Until."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a street length gown of skinner satin, with lace inset yoke and wide bertha (made by her mother), and fingertip veil with seed pearl tulle. She carried a white Bible with a purple orchid and streamers.

The bride's attendants were her sisters, Miss Barbara Smith as maid of honor, and Miss Marie Smith as bridesmaid. The former wore a gown of pink net over satin, and the latter a yellow net over satin, and both carried colonial bouquets. The best man was Dayton Frantz, and ushers were William Stout and Robert Bittenbender.

The bride is a graduate of Stroudsburg High school, and was employed prior to her marriage at the Heidelberg, Swiftwater. The groom is employed in New York. The young couple will make their home in New York, in an apartment at West 43rd St., Manhattan.

Immediately following the ceremony at the church, a reception for about 75 guests was held at the Swiftwater M. E. hall, where their wedding gifts were opened and displayed. They had a three-tiered wedding cake with miniature bride and bridegroom, and other refreshments were served. There were guests from New York, Reading, Bangor, Stroudsburg and Snydersville.

The couple left on Sunday for New York, where they will set up housekeeping at their newly furnished apartment.

Local Unit, Cancer Society Establishes Office Here; First In State For Survey

The Monroe county unit of the American Cancer society has secured an office to serve as headquarters, through the efforts of the Monroe county commissioners. The office is located on the second floor at 615 Sarah St., Stroudsburg.

It will not only serve as headquarters for the national campaign set by Congress for April, but will remain open the year round. One of its major uses will be that of headquarters for the Cancer Dressings programs under the supervision of Mrs. John Stanford and a crew of volunteer workers.

They will make dressings for Monroe county cancer patients to be used under supervision where records will be kept in confidential files. The general public is invited to donate as much cotton material as possible, since old, soft and absorbent cloths often are more suitable than other material.

The cloth does not have to be white, but should be laundered and wrapped in brown paper or other paper which does not contain ink or dye. All materials should be sent to the local headquarters for cancer, and the General hospital has offered its service for sterilization when necessary.

A telephone will be installed at headquarters within the next few days, and a post office box had already been set up for inquiries by mail. All such material should be addressed to P. O. Box 506, Stroudsburg.

Attorney Detlef Hansen, 1952 campaign chairman for Monroe county unit of the American Cancer society, Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Robert Miller, attended a special luncheon meeting in Scranton last Friday as the guests of Col. J. Henry Pool, of Kingston, chairman of campaign for northeastern Pennsylvania.

Col. Pool outlined plans for the April Campaign, of which Dr. Milton Eisenhower is state chairman. Mrs. J. Stewart Williams, state representative, introduced the speaker, Dr. Daniel Horn of national headquarters.

Mothers Set For March On Polio

Monroe county is all set to go in the greatest single all-out effort in this year's fund-raising drive for the March of Dimes. The climax of the campaign takes place tomorrow night at 6:30 when several hundred local mothers march on polio.

"Following weeks of preparation, J. L. Cohen, county director said yesterday, 'we now have at hand a vast and enthusiastic volunteer organization of mothers ready to swing into action the moment the sirens and whistles announce the start of the Mothers' March on Polio.'"

"At our briefing sessions, Miss Helen Kulp, president of the Business and Professional Women's club, and chairman of the Mothers' March, said, 'We have brought before these loyal volunteers the crucial need for funds if we are to continue to the utmost our fight against infantile paralysis.'"

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

A new version of an old song keeps running through my head this morning, and it goes something like this:

Sale-ing, Sale-ing
Over the bounding Main.
With every bargain that we buy
Our jack comes home again

In this case, the Main is Main Street . . . and, beginning tomorrow, the budget-minded homemaker will be steering a straight course over that thoroughfare to the Sears store, where a nine day Home Furnishings Sale will be in progress.

After more than an hour in the Sears department yesterday, I had accumulated more merchandising information than could possibly be used in this space. That's why I hope you'll listen to this morning's Wyckoff Shopper broadcast at 9:30. There we'll give you answers to such questions as: What is the present price trend on furniture and rugs? Is it possible to find a carpeting, other than wool, that has all the best qualities of that material and is not too expensive? Where can I find a really splendid selection of rugs in Stroudsburg? How can I hope to match paint, draperies, and furnishings when colors vary so? All of these questions trouble housekeepers at one time or another . . . but there are answers as simple as those in the back of a third grade arithmetic.

Speaking of sales, reminds me that all of us should be more calendar conscious . . . for as each month draws to a close, the department heads in Wyckoff's go over their stock and mark down all the one-and-two-of-a-kind articles, shopworn items, and varied goods which it is undesirable to continue carrying. It's a matter of good housekeeping for them. For you and me, it's a matter of good buying. This particular month-end clearance should be particularly fruitful, as it comes directly before inventory. And you know how we women are at housecleaning time. We'd much rather part with something than count it and pack it away. Well, many of the department heads are women, you know. So at this moment, their counters bear watching!

Assessment Talk Given By Drennan

Members of the Monroe County Parent-Teachers council met at Stroudsburg High school yesterday afternoon to hear an address by Harry Drennan, exponent of a proposed countywide tax-equalization plan which has been submitted to county commissioners.

Drennan, in his first public appearance on behalf of the plan, attempted to clarify a few of the issues which, according to PTA members, have been "bothering residents in our townships" since the plan was set forth in a letter to school directors and simultaneously to the commissioners in letter form.

"The plan which I have submitted had its beginning during the first year of Act 403," Drennan said. (Act 403 is the State law which based all reimbursements to township school districts on the assessed value of the township and the number of teaching units. Drennan has actually been working on his present plan with county and State officials only since last November.)

The current state of affairs in some local school districts has made necessary changes in the assessed value of township. Drennan pointed out. "Many schools are up to maximum millage," he continued. "Although legislative changes during the past session may ease that situation slightly there is no present indication that they will be helped right away."

Equalization of assessments, Drennan noted, would result in the correction of many injustices which now exist. "It would be wrong, however," he said, "to raise assessments only in one township. This would mean one township pays more than its share of county taxes."

One of the primary advantages, Drennan believes, in increased assessed value, would be that "borrowing power for the township would be raised." Borrowing power is based entirely upon the township's assessed value. This, Drennan said, would be especially valuable for those school districts which intend to build schools or new buildings in the future.

Using charts and figures from the State Tax Equalization board, Drennan cited specific instances showing the wide contrast in assessment percentage between townships. Some of these differences, he said, could be traced to a lack of sales in certain areas.

In response to a question from a Hamilton township resident, Drennan attempted to explain the methods used by the State Tax board in determining the "market" or "true" value of real estate in townships.

State figures are apparently arrived at through a computation of the "selling price, as listed" for properties in the district, Drennan said. The board, Drennan said, does not have a formula for figuring the "true" value of property which does not change hands over a period of time.

The increase in assessed value, to one-third, if enacted on a countywide basis, could result in an immediate lowering of millage rates and per capita taxation in most cases, followed by slight rises during the next five years, Drennan said.

After the five-year period had ended, he said, there would be a general "leveling-off" of taxation rates and, in some cases, tax rates could then be lowered.

Drennan emphasized that "at no time" does the term "per cent increase," when used in the plan

Sabbath Schools To Observe Christian Citizenship Sunday

Attention is being focused by Monroe County Sunday School association on Christian Citizenship Sunday which will be observed February 10 in an effort to alert all church members to register and vote at the presidential primary and general elections this year.

Executive committee of the association, meeting recently at Dale H. Larn's Monroe Hills office, recalled that at the last presidential primary only one out of eight church members voted, and that only 51 per cent of registered voters cast a ballot in 1948.

The movement also includes a reminder that March 1 is the last day for registration and that all citizens who have not voted for two years should register.

The committee formulated plans for a spring workshop and the fall convention of the organization. Warren Godshall, president, conducted the meeting which first established that the workshop for teacher training will be held in the YMCA March 13 and March 20.

Miss Geraldine Jasmer and Mrs. Grant Keiper will be teachers of the pre-school, beginners and primary divisions. Mrs. Hubert Newton, Delaware Water Gap will give instruction in junior and intermediate departments.

Under the schedule for teaching Juniors and Intermediates are (1) characteristics and objectives; (2) the art of story-telling, including what is good story; preparing a story for telling; how to make Bible stories interesting; the use of the story; demonstration of the stories; (3) memorization; passages suitable; does drill need to be dull? uses of memory work. (4) leading Juniors and Intermediates in work submitted to school directors, mean an increase in taxation—"it means an increase only in the assessed value."

Burgesses Endorse Polio Day

The chief burgesses of Monroe County's four boroughs yesterday issued a proclamation which designates Thursday to be "Mothers' March on Polio" day in this region.

In their statement, Chief Burgess L. T. Power, Mount Pocono; Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris, Stroudsburg; Chief Burgess L. J. Kleinle, East Stroudsburg and Chief Burgess Forrest Smith, Delaware Water Gap, made this appeal:

"We urge that there blazon from every home in this region a light inviting these humanitarian volunteers to such residence to receive funds with which to carry on the work made possible by the 'March of Dimes'."

Noting that the January 31 "Mothers' March on Polio" is the climaxing activity of this year's March of Dimes, the chief executives said that infantile paralysis, during the past four years, placed an "overwhelming burden upon the March of Dimes in providing for care and treatment of the stricken—many of them local people."

Chemical Test Fails To Find Death Cause

Seranton (AP) — A report yesterday by a chemist who made chemical tests of the stomach organs of Earl L. Butler, 52, trucking firm head, and Mrs. Madelyn Deykes, 55, who were found dead Sunday in the latter's home under mysterious circumstances, failed to show any evidence that they had swallowed poison.

Dr. Paul E. Kubasko, Lackawanna county coroner, who said Monday that the victims had "apparently died from some kind of poisoning," said the chemist's report leaves authorities up against a stonewall. The coroner said he planned to consult with medical experts as the investigation continues in an effort to determine

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Jim Frawley, outstanding guard for the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College basketball team, was recently named co-editor of the school's year book for this year. Jim, who is also president of the Future Teachers of America at the local college, will team with Sal Difide, a popular member of the senior class and publicity agent for the Roseto entry in the Blue Mountain league during the summer months. Sal is currently employed at the Thomas P. Lambert Veterans of Foreign Wars Post each Saturday.

This column's long range prediction that "Zach" Taylor would become manager of the Scranton entry in the class 'A' Eastern league proved correct when the official announcement was made yesterday. The prediction was made more than a month ago and the presence of Taylor at the helm of the Miners should prove beneficial to everyone concerned. Lou Baselle, former stockholder in the Stroudsburg Poconos, is the new owner of the Electric City's professional baseball club.

The announcement by the Wilson Borough High school's board of education that Lionel "Bud" Hall had been named head football coach, replacing the retired Walter Hicks, came as good news to all the followers of the East Stroudsburg High grid machine. Jack Kist, head mentor of the Cavaliers, had been mentioned in connection with the Wilson position, although the popular grid mentor never applied for the job. Hall is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati and is currently taking advanced work at Columbia. His recommendations, according to reports, are of the finest caliber.

This writer was most annoyed to hear that on at least one occasion this year there has been hard feelings harbored by one basketball team, because of the color or religion of the opposition. I have been hearing reports of this nature for the past two months, and if at anytime I am able to prove that there are any teams, or individuals connected with Monroe County athletics, who harbor such thoughts or expressed such views, I will do all in my power to make the individual or individuals sorry for their actions. Athletics are for everyone and not for a select few who think they rate above others socially, when actually they are far down the social ladder.

Fred Oravec, Palmerton sharpshooter, set a new Palmerton High record a couple of weeks ago when he scored 42 points against Emmaus. Bill Mikvy, much talked about Temple ace, formerly held the Palmerton court mark of 40 points. However, the 55 tallies registered by Leighton's Donny Roth against Leighton, failed to even equal the Leighton hardwood mark. Mikvy holds this record with 44 markers, scored during the second half of the 1946-1947 Lehigh Valley League campaign.

Jake Nittel, captain of the Crowe Insurance Co. entry in the Delaware Valley League, has added 48 more league games to his consecutive-game streak which has extended beyond 12 years. Jake features an average of 193 pins, not to mention a single high of 279 and a top match count of 692 pins. The Hackettstown Sports Club is anxious to book home games on February 4, 11, 18 and 25, all Mondays. The New Jersey quintet is especially interested in at least one game with the Stroudsburg Veterans of Foreign, who took on all comers prior to this season. Henry Tomalino, 170 Main St., Hackettstown, N. J., is the man to contact.

Reports coming out of Carbon-dale indicate that the Benjamin Franklin school board will complete a deal to take over Russell Park, lock stock and barrel, next month, just as the Stroudsburg school board took over the equipment at Gordon Giffels field more than a year ago. Russell Park was home for the Carbonade Pioneer Blues when the class "D" North Atlantic League was still in operation. Charley Decker, who played great basketball for Waymart High in recent years, scored 58 points for Lakewood the other night, in a Tri-County League affair. Lakewood went on to take the measure of Lake Ariel, 117-36.

Time is running short during which snow must fall to make Saturday's third annual Eastern Pennsylvania Ski Championships possible on the Big Pocono slopes. The weather has turned very cold, but as yet the needed snow has failed to put in its appearance for the big event. If the snow doesn't fall by Friday the meet will undoubtedly be postponed until a later date.

Coach Sam Russell is trying desperately to bolster the defensive game of his Stroudsburg High cage machine before the Mountaineers return to action on Friday, against Palmerton. Sam maintains that 61 points is enough to win any high school game—but it fell short by two points of downing Northampton last Friday.

East Stroudsburg High Rolls Over Nazareth, 63-44

Tredinnick, Steele Pace Cavaliers

Nazareth — East Stroudsburg High opened the second-half of the Lehigh-Northampton league pennant fight with a convincing 63-44 victory over Nazareth High here last night, on the losing team's home court. Ray Steele, with 20 counters, and Jack Tredinnick, with 14 tallies, led the Cavaliers to their fifth favorable decision in ten trips to the hardwood this season.

The home town junior varsity managed to gain a measure of revenge with a 44-41 victory over the East Stroudsburg yearlings in the preliminary contest. Don Herman and Leon Alberts, with 13 and 12 tallies respectively, led the losing attack.

There was never much doubt in the varsity tussle that Eastburg was destined to take home the bacon, as the purple and white clad charges of Coach Dick Forster moved into an early lead and held the upper hand for the remainder of the distance.

The Cavaliers were out in front at the end of the first quarter, 10-6, and at halftime, 22-10, after holding a 12-4 edge during the second round.

Nazareth played its best brand of ball during the third stanza and outscored the Cavaliers, 14-12, but the Forstermen entered the home stretch on the long end of a 34-24 count.

Scoring Peak
Both teams had their scoring peaks during the last quarter, East Stroudsburg running up 29 points and Nazareth 20, to give the visiting Cavaliers a safe margin of victory.

The Cavaliers made seven of 15 shots from the foul line, while Nazareth came through on six of 14 occasions from the same charity stretch.

Steele registered his 20 points on eight goals from the floor and four of six shots from the foul line.

The big center scored nine markers in the first half and 11 during the third and fourth periods. Tredinnick registered his 14 tallies on seven doubleheaders.

Tom Boersler, Nazareth center, was the big gun in a losing cause with 18 points, registered on eight field goals and two charity shots.

Although Dick Newton was reported alright after the game, the steady playing guard suffered a knee injury early in the third period and was forced from the game.

East Stroudsburg returned to its home boards, on N. Courtland St. on Friday, to play host to a powerful Hellertown club that won the first half championship in the Lehigh-Northampton league.

Dobson, Robinson Sign
Chicago (AP) — Joe Dobson, 35-year-old, right-handed pitcher yesterday signed his 1952 Chicago White Sox contract, leaving only two of the club's 38 players unsigned.

Earlier in the day, first sacker Eddie Robinson signed for a reported $25,000, one of the highest salaries ever paid by the White Sox.

Moore Decisions Johnson
Toledo, O., (AP) — Archie Moore, of Toledo, the number two challenger for the light heavy crown, belted out a ten-round decision last night over Harold Johnson, of Philadelphia.

Moore, who has been in pursuit of the light heavy title for many years, lost a surprise decision to Johnson in their last meeting, after defeating the young Quaker City puncher earlier.

Future Black For Middle Atlantic Loop

Ebensburg, Pa. (AP) — Whether the class "C" Middle Atlantic Baseball league will fold this year must be decided shortly.

The circuit, long plagued by financial troubles, just staggered through the 1951 season. Only five teams—Butler, Erie and New Castle, Pa., and Lockport and Niagara Falls, N. Y.—finished.

Oil City, Pa., was forced to quit soon after it obtained the franchise held by Youngstown, O. In previous years Uniontown, Pa., and Vandergrift, Pa., dropped from the original eight-club loop.

League President Elmer Daily had no comment on rumors of the league's instability but said he will issue a statement on the circuit's status Saturday.

In Pittsburgh, Nicholas Andolina, who holds the Butler franchise, said he doesn't know what to do about fielding a team this year. He added:

"Butler is out as far as I'm concerned. The town just won't support a minor league baseball team. We got a very bad deal last year."

May Move
Andolina declared he is considering moving the franchise to another city but had no other comment.

An official of the New Castle club said it is standing pat, awaiting word from the league. He said New Castle in all probability will field a team "if and when there is a league."

"The Erie Sailors have come out strongly in favor of an eight-club circuit. Such a possibility is considered slim. The league reportedly is trying to interest a couple of Canadian clubs in joining the Middle Atlantic loop but apparently little progress has been made."

Directors of the Erie team have told General Manager Mike Canavino to explore every possibility to keep the club in operation. However, the Sailors may hook up with another loop or forget the venture entirely.

Men behind the team don't want to wait until April or May to decide the Sailors' future. They're anxious to get their program—if there is one—under way as quickly as possible.

Only factor pointing toward dissolution of the club is the $13,458 operating deficit chalked up last season. Directors have decided to sell 12 ball players. They hope to realize some $5,000.

With Erie out of the league, prospects of holding together the remaining members appear poor.

Cardinals Agree
St. Louis (AP) — Fifteen St. Louis Cardinals were in the signed column last night with receipt of completed contracts from outfielder Hal Rice, pitcher Jack Collum and first baseman Jim Dickey.

It was announced earlier in the day that pitchers Dick Bokelmann and Kurt Krieger and outfielder-infielder Harry "Peanuts" Lowry had signed for 1952.

Fairleigh-Dickinson Swamps ESSTC

Schmidt Tallies 24 Points For Warriors

Rutherford, N.J. — Fairleigh-Dickinson's cage machine exploded right in the face of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College last night and the New Jersey quintet ran wild to down the Warriors, 104-63, in one of the very few, if not the first time in the history of the game at the local college that the opposition has bettered the century mark.

Despite the brilliant scoring antics of Bill Schmidt, who came up with 24 points, the outcome of the battle was never in doubt, as the Rutherford charges of Coach Dick Holub scored almost at will throughout the contest to pile up the score.

The New Jersey quintet jumped off to a 32-15 lead at the end of the first period and then stretched its advantage to 51-32 at the halfway mark, as a total of 11 Fairleigh-Dickinson cagers broke into the scoring column. The home team had the better of the going in the second quarter, 19-17.

Same Story
It was virtually the same story in the second half, as the Fairleigh-Dickinson contingent dominated the third round, 31-23, as ESSTC hit its scoring peak for the night, and then came back to run wild during the late stages of the game, 22-8.

ESSTC not only lost the game but probably lost the services of ace guard Jim Frawley for Friday's clash with Paterson State Teachers, at Paterson, Frawley fell heavily to the floor during an attempted "drive-in" shot early in the last period and struck his head. A late report indicated that Frawley, who was taken from the game had suffered a slight concussion.

Frank "Whitey" Whitecavage ESSTC center was unable to make the trip because of a virus infection.

The Warriors made 11 of 14 foul shots, while Fairleigh-Dickinson connected on 20 of 25 tosses from the same distance.

John Schull, George Laborowski and Gene Remoff were the big guns in a winning cause with 19, 18 and 17 points respectively.

Christenberry Receives Vote Of Confidence From Senate

By Harry O'Donnell

Albany, N. Y. (AP) — Armed with a unanimous vote of confidence from the New York Senate, state boxing czar Bob Christenberry yesterday renewed his vow to purge "hoodlums and gangsters" from the ring game.

Christenberry told reporters he was satisfied with his progress so far in trying to "drive criminal scum" from boxing and that he believed the sport could be reformed.

But he said he would "do all I can to have boxing abolished" in New York state if he becomes convinced that it cannot be cleaned up.

The Republican-controlled Senate voted without dissent to confirm Christenberry's appointment as chairman of the State Boxing commission. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey appointed him last September 28 and told him to clean up boxing.

Even Democratic senators, who have demanded that boxing be outlawed, voted to confirm Christenberry, 52-year-old New York City hotel executive.

Stands

After his confirmation, the crusading Christenberry:

One—Reiterated his warning that Jersey Joe Walcott would be stripped of his heavyweight title in New York—unless he signed by February 5 for a title defense.

Two—Blasted Harry Matthews, light heavyweight title contender, for claiming he had been frozen out of New York fights.

Christenberry indicated that a "red carpet" had been rolled out for Matthews and charged that "he doesn't want to fight; why has he dodged Archie Moore for the last seven years?"

The boxing boss said he was "not certain that he (Matthews) was a great fighter but he's a great talker."

Christenberry said he had asked the State Senate Finance committee to recommend appropriations to permit him to hire boxing commission "investigators" and to employ a full-time commission physician.

These moves, he indicated, would be part of his program to weed "undesirable" characters out of boxing and to help reduce the toll of ring deaths and injuries.

He said he was giving top priority to "elimination of hazards" for the fighters themselves.

"It is more important first," he added, "to bring an end to deaths and injuries in the ring."

Republican Walter J. Mahoney, chairman of the Senate Finance committee, predicted the group would approve appropriations requested by Christenberry to permit employment of investigators and a full-time commission physician.

Christenberry said he believed boxing could be cleaned up and that it would not become necessary to outlaw the sport.

Bangor Bows To First-Half Title Holder

Hellertown — An injury and sickness riddled Bangor High cage machine played the role of the victim last night as Hellertown, first-half title holder in the Lehigh-Northampton league, opened the second-half of the 1951-52 flag race with a 69-49 victory over the Slaters.

The game was played on the Hellertown hardwood.

The Slaters also finished second best in the junior varsity encounter, as the Hellertown yearlings took a thrilling 39-37 decision from Bangor, despite the 16 points accounted for by Garry Wynne.

Handicapped
Bangor was without the services of high scoring Joe Heard, who is confined to bed with the gripe and an ailing neck, while Bob Egbert saw only limited action because of illness and Asa Pysker was handicapped by an ankle injury.

Hellertown moved out in front early in the first period and held the upper hand the remainder of the distance. However, Bangor put on its best scoring demonstration of the game in the fourth quarter, against the Hellertown reserves, when the visiting five picked up 21 points.

The Slaters made 17 of 35 foul shots, while Hellertown accounted for seven singletons in 15 attempts.

Jim Rowlands was the big point-producer for Bangor, with 14 markers, on five goals from the floor and four from the foul line.

Tom Barriero, with 16 tallies, on seven goals from the floor and two foul shots, led the winning attack.

Pioneers, Barber Shop Quintets Win

A strong showing in the first and third periods enabled the Pioneers to score a 48-42 victory over Trumatic High in the first of two Senior High League basketball games played at the Monroe County YMCA yesterday. The second encounter resulted in a comfortable 66-31 victory for Frank's Barber Shop over the Lemons.

First game activity featured the Pioneers with a five-point lead at the end of the first period and a 24-23 advantage at the halfway mark. The Pioneers stretched their lead to nine points at the end of the third round and fought off a last period rally by Trumatic to win.

Clean Cut

The nightcap was a clean cut victory for the Barbers, although the Lemons held a 12-11 edge at the end of the first quarter. However, the Barber Shop quintet held the upper hand for the remainder of the distance, to win by a wide margin.

Scoring honors for the afternoon went to Don France, high scoring Barber Shop forward, who accounted for 20 points on nine field goals and two conversions from the charity line.

Eighth Grade, Seniors Gain Court Verdicts

Eighth grade ran over the seventh grade and the Seniors took the measure of the Freshmen in an intramural doubleheader for girls on the Stroudsburg High school court yesterday.

Seventh grade fell before the eighth graders, 40-6, while the Seniors took the measure of the Freshmen, 28-18.

Second Half
The eighth grade contingent ran wild in the second half after leading 18-6 at the halfway mark. The winning aggregation made 22 points during the third and fourth quarters while the Seventh graders were held scoreless.

A big third period enabled the Seniors to do the bulk of their damage against the Freshmen, as the upper classmen won by a margin of ten points.

Mounting Cost Of Education Faces County's Two Smallest Boroughs

(This is the sixth in a series of articles on school budgets and township and borough assessments in Monroe county.)

By Leonard Randolph

Both Delaware Water Gap and Mount Pocono operate elementary schools within their boroughs.

The cost of operating these schools for children in grades one through six has kept pace with increases felt in all other sections of Monroe county.

In Delaware Water Gap the school budget has more than doubled since 1941. During that year, school directors set up a budget of $8,456 with which they paid the salaries of two teachers and a custodian and the actual expenses involved in operating and maintaining the school plant.

The assessed valuation of the borough in that year was $393,861 against which 13 mills per thousand dollars were levied by the directors, combined with a $5 per capita tax to meet the total school budget.

The years between 1941 and 1946 were war years. Prices on utilities and wages, for the most part, were static. Equipment was difficult to replace and repairs to buildings were, as a general rule, forgotten.

At the end of World War Two, during the 1946-47 school year, Delaware Water Gap school directors calculated their operating period, Mount Pocono's assessed valuation also dropped. With the 1946-47 school year, this assessed value was set at $487,070 for the borough. The budget had advanced to $17,709. Borough school directors levied a 14 mill property tax and did not change the per capita.

In the years between 1946 and 1950, Mount Pocono's assessed value paralleled the increased value during the same years for Delaware Water Gap. In both cases the advance amounted to approximately $60,000 dollars.

For Mount Pocono this meant a new assessed valuation figure of $542,273. The borough budget for schools stood at $19,752 during the 1950-51 school year for which taxes on property amounted to 21 mills—an advance of 7 (Continued on page five)

ordinarily, with the local effort figure staying at its old level (0.06) this legislation would have meant a drastic increase in state funds for most districts. The legislation, however, lowered the local effort figure to .004, thereby eliminating most of the excess.

Delaware Water Gap's assessed value during the 1950-51 school year, had risen to $411,250. The school budget, meanwhile, had jumped to $15,740. Residents of the borough paid taxes in the amount of 20 mills per thousand and $10 per capita.

The year between 1950 and 1951 again saw a slight decrease in the borough's assessed value—from $411,250 in 1950 to $411,125 in 1951-52. The budget, during the same one-year period, rose nearly $3,000. In order to meet its new operating cost—$18,213—the borough school directors levied a property tax of 24 mills per thousand. The per capita stayed the same as 1950's.

Over the ten year period, Delaware Water Gap's assessed value had increased $17,264. The school budget advanced from $8,456 in 1941 to $18,213 in 1951—an increase of $9,757.

The borough residents paid 11 mills and $5 per capita more in taxes last year than they had ten years previously.

Mount Pocono residents, meanwhile, are taxed 13 mills more today than they were in 1941 while their per capita tax has not changed over the ten-year period.

At the beginning of this ten-year cycle, Mount Pocono was assessed at $488,650 with a school budget of $12,807. The millage rate, at that time, was set at 12 with $5 per capita levied on taxpaying residents.

CHALLENGING NEW 125 HP HIGH-COMPRESSION V8

Here's the new stepped-up successor to the engine which for two straight years won top class honors in officially sponsored economy tests. This year—even more efficiency, greater horsepower, and better power-to-weight ratio. It's high-compression, V-8 power at its best—by the company which has built more V-type engines than all others combined.

3 GREAT TRANSMISSIONS—Mercury offers you a choice of three dependable performance-proved drives: silent-ease standard transmission; thrifty Touch-O-Matic Overdrive*; and Merc-O-Matic*, greatest of all automatic drives.

*Optional at extra cost.

FEAST your eyes on this, America. Mercury has done it—brought you a really new 1952 car that's far, far ahead . . . that stands as an even greater challenge to the motoring world than last year's Mercury, one of the most popular cars that ever came down the American Road.

Your first look begins to tell you why. For here's something entirely new in car design . . . swift, clean lines that sweep from the new "Jet-scoop" hood (inspired by the smartest European cars) to a strikingly new rear deck design. Here's styling made possible for the first time in automotive history by revolutionary new techniques in metal engineering.

But wait till you feel the stepped-up pace, the steady balance of this beauty. There's more power—125-horsepower high-compression V-8—greater pick-up, and even better efficiency. And that's saying plenty when you think of the prize-winning Mercury performance of recent years.

So hurry on down to our showroom. Be one of the first to see, drive, and own the car with the "future features" today . . . the challenging new 1952 Mercury.

Standard equipment, accessories, and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice. White side-wall tires, when available, at extra cost.
